Module 3 Fail Log

- Was able to open the `texas.txt` file using `nano` however I can't seem to find the index of the list of letters
- Found the index of letters; I had to start selecting the text and going down first before it would scroll
- This is kind of a time consuming process even just to highlight the text we don't want. There were about 5000 lines when we started, and now it's down to about 2000 so we had to delete over half of the lines
- I'm unsure of where to paste my text into RegExr.com, I just copied some text and pasted it in the top text box but it said there was an error?
- I followed the command properly ensuring all `'`, `.` and `/\` were correct, as well as the spacing between certain parts
- Reached out for help on Zulip, waiting for response
- I did not follow the command properly, I forgot a `/` after `'s`
- With so many brackets and slashes to follow it was really easy to miss them
- I also wasn't able to do Step 3 of Exercise 1 where we were removing page numbers
- I did try to follow Alexei's answer however I kept getting `sed: -e expression #1, char 24: invalid reference \2 on 's' command's RHS`
- I figured it out. I forgot to include `-r -i.bak` in my command
- It really is quite difficult considering that every single character typed or missed completely changes the outcome of your command or renders it useless
- A lot of the errors I made were me just missing certain parts or missing the `/` in a command
- I thought I was able to commit my changes to my GitHub because everything seemed to go smoothly (they asked me to log in etc.) but when I'm on my GitHub I still don't see it
- Interestingly enough, I did manage to find a lot of the files that I was trying to commit in Module 1 over on my 'Public' repository. Not sure how they ended up there
- I guess I'll be dragging and dropping the files I made today

EXERCISE 2

- I'm not even able to open Open Refine
- I tried typing in the URL into a browser but it's saying it cannot connect
- Had to go into my security settings to allow it to open

- When I click the arrow by Sender and click text facet, I get a text pop up saying '5709 choices total, too many to display
- I don't see an arrow on next to Recipient
- I'm stumped here. When I watched the video, "Sender, Recipient, Date" were all separated into separate columns but mine doesn't look like that, it looks like this:
